1.0.4870

I.O. 4870

Extract from Newspaper.

Deportation of Caftens.

The Chief of Police addressed the following dispatch to the Minister of Justice on the 30th of last month.

The nefarious industry of lechery which has been constantly and peristently suppressed by the Police in former years has again appeared in our midst and is being excercised openly.

From close examinations which I have held, I have ascertained who are the caftens, their names and nationalities. They continue to speculate in this business and employ the most detestable means sometimes coupled with threats. Poor women through privation and misery fall easily into their hands.

As with their predecessors ~~they~~ who were ordered away in the past, so with the present offendors: they are also Foreigners.

This shameful industry is no doubt a crime which is punishable under Arti 278 of the Criminal Code but with youb knowledge of things you will readily understand that the institution of proceedings by jury to stop the crime of lechery is undesirable as it would get publicity and that would affect the public morals of the nation.

The caftens a list of whose names I enclose, are well known. They are one and all of Foreign nationality and therefore liable to be deported. The Government therefore by these means can get rid of the obnoxious scoundrels.

It is not ignored that deportation is a soverign right the use of which is not seriously disputed by an independent nation that has the liberty of expelling from amongst its people troublesome intruders that cause danger and lead the public morals into shame I therefore request that you will deport those referred to in the list.

In accordance with the requisition the Chief of the Police was authorised to depart the persons mentioned in the 1st of whom the following have already been arrested:-

Bernardo Gultzer, S. Caufmann, Joko Harencoos, Adolpho Macobs, Nathan Monstack, Hasson Capelam, H. Goldenberg, Jacob Hahenamberg, William Wechi, Israel Netseber, Leopoldo Einsten, Daniel Frankien, Adolph Selerston, Rosa Stehnger, Canton Joseph, Jacob Buzinsky, Cecilia Hungara, Hermann Kaimmer, Adolpho Toppelberg, Harcia Catinger, Moritz Cheler and Emma Hapere.

The caftens were arrested yesterday at 6 p.m. and sent to the House of Detention.

Extract from Newspaper.

4870
5/12/22

Deportation of Caftens.

The Chief of Police addressed the following dispatch to the Minister of Justice on the 30th of last month.

The nefarious industry of lechery which has been constantly and peristently suppressed by the Police in former years has again appeared in our midst and is being exercised openly.

From close examinations which I have held, I have ascertained who are the caftens, their names and nationalities. They continue to speculate in this business and employ the most detestable means sometimes coupled with threats. Poor women through privation and misery fall easily into their hands.

As with their predecessors who were ordered away in the past, so with the present offenders: they are also Foreigners.

This shameful industry is no doubt a crime which is punishable under Art. 278 of the Criminal Code but with your knowledge of things you will readily understand that the institution of proceedings by jury to stop the crime of lechery is undesirable as it would get publicity and that would affect the public morals of the nation.

The caftens a list of whose names I enclose, are well known. They are one and all of Foreign nationality and therefore liable to be deported. The Government therefore by these means can get rid of the obnoxious scoundrels.

It is not ignored that deportation is a soverign right the use of which is not seriously disputed by an independent nation that has the liberty of expelling from amongst its people troublesome intruders that cause danger and lead the public morals into shame I therefore request that you will deport those referred to in the list.

In accordance with the requisition the Chief of the Police was authorised to deport the persons mentioned in the lst of whom the following have already been arrested:-

Bernardo Cultzer, S. Gaufmann, Joko Marenocos,

Adolpho Macobs, Nathan Monstack, Hasson Capelam,

H. Goldenberg, Jacob Bahermberg, William Wechi,

Israel Meteeber, Leopoldo Einsten, Daniel

Frankien, Adolph Selerston, Rosa Steinger,

Canton Joseph, Jacob Buzinsky, Cecilia Hungara,

Herrmann Kairner, Adolpho Toppelberg, Marcia Catinger,

Moritz Chaler and Emma Rapero.

The caftens were arrested yesterday at 6 p.m. and sent to the House of Detention.

4840
5/12/22

Extract from Newspaper

Deportation of Caftens

The Chief of Police addressed the following dispatch to the Minister of Justice on the 30th.of last month.

The nefarious industry of lechery which has been constantly and persistently suppressed by the Police in former years has again appeared in our midst and is being exercised openly.

From close examinations which I have held, I have ascertained who are the caftens their names and nationalities. They continue to speculate in this business and employ the most detestable means sometimes coupled with threats. Poor women through privation and misery fall easily into their hands.

As with their predecessors who were ordered away in the past, so with the present offenders: they are also Foreigners.

This shameful industry is no doubt a crime which is punishable under Art: 278 of the Criminal Code; but with your knowledge of things you will readily understand that the institution of proceedings by jury to stop the crime of lechery is undesirable as it would get publicity and that would affect the public morals of the nation.

The caftens a list of whose names I enclose are well known. They are one and all of Foreign nationality and therefore liable to be deported. The Government therefore by these means can get rid of the obnoxious scoundrels.

It is not ignored that deportation is a sovereign right the use of which is not seriously deputed by an independent nation that has the liberty of expelling from amongst its people troublesome intruders that cause danger and lead the public morals into shame I therefore request that you will deport those referred to in the list.

In accordance with the requisition the Chief of the Police was authorised to deport the persons mentioned in the list of whom the following have already been arrested :-

Bernardo Gultzer, S. Caufmann, Joko Marenocos,

Adolpho Macobs, Nathan Monstack, Masson Capelam,

M. Goldeberg, Jacob Hahenamberg, William Wechi,

Israel Netseber, Leopoldo Einsten, Daniel

Frankien, Adolph Selerston, Rosa Stehnger,

Canton Joseph, Jacob Buzinscky, Cecilia Hungara,

Hermann Kainmer, Adolpho Toppelberg, Maria Catinger,

Moritz Cheler & Emma Hapero.

O. I. D.
No. 1870
5/12/32

Deportation of Captens.

The Chief of Police addressed to the Minister of Justice on the 30th of last month, the following despatch:-

"The nefarious industry of lechery that has been stubborn and constantly chased by the police during the former years has again reappeared in our midst and is being exercised openly.

"From the close examinations held by me I could find out the captens by their names and nationalities who continue to speculate, employing the most detestable means coupled with threat, and the poor women, forced by prevation and misery, fall easily into their hands.

"As their predecessors that were ordered to retire in the past, the actual ones are also foreigners.

"Their shameful industry is no doubt as a crime punishable under Art. 278 of the criminal code.

"With your good knowledge of things, you will readily understand that the institution of proceedings to stop the crime of lechery before a jury, is undesirable, because it might get publicity that will affect the public moral of the nation.

"The captens, a list of which I enclose, are well known and they are one and all of foreign nationalities, therefore they are under the condition of being deported, since the Government can get rid of these obnoxious scoundrels by these means.

It is not ignored that deportation is a sovereign right, the use of which is not seriously disputed with any independent nation, that have liberty of expelling from its midst troublesome intruders that cause danger and lead the public moral into shame. Therefore I request you to deport the strangers in the list referred to."

In accordance with the requisition, the Chief of Police was authorized to deport the persons contained in the list, of whom the following have been already arrested: Bernard Goldger, S. Confmann, T. T.

The captens were arrested [illegible] at 5 p.m. [illegible] Detention